This password wordlist contains a list of 10,000 English words that can be used as passwords on various websites. This wordlist is meant to be used as-is and does not contain any information about the websites it supports. This password wordlist is a free download from <https://www.passwordwordlists.com/>. You can also access the site from the website url: <https://www.passwordwordlists.com/txt/> The password list was originally released by oauth2security on October 8th, 2015 and the website has been updated every two weeks ever since then with new data being added each time that includes more than just English words. However this is the first time that this wordlist is being made available in text format to allow it to be downloaded for offline use. Each password word in the list contains its word value, leetspeak value, its location in the dictionary and also the hash sum of the word. This allows an easy way to validate passwords against the wordlist using both custom software or website login pages themselves.
